5 POWERLINE	8–5
2 HIGHWAYMEN	6–1
12 SHOCK VALUE	12–1
7 BOURBON NEAT	8–1

PICK: 5 POWERLINE
Nightmare trip at Saratoga last out as the 3–5 favorite. Broke 8 lengths behind, rushed up, then repeatedly checked while rank and full of run. The winner returned to take the G1 Bourbon over Coach Pope, while four others hit the board next out, including a Saratoga turf winner. His debut conqueror won the G1 Hopeful. This $1.9M Flightline colt for Asmussen gets Prat aboard. Zipped home in the 10/4 work from the gate here.

VALUE: 2 HIGHWAYMEN
They paid near $1M for this son of Curlin. He has grass deep in his pedigree but does have one who ran at the top level on the dirt. That was the 2016 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile winner, Tamarkuz. While Jose Ortiz rides first call for Cherie DeVaux, it's worth noting that he is off the favorite and a few others he could have ridden in here. He's got a fantastic worktab for how DeVaux works her horses. Likely makes a late run today.

8 DON'T TELL MOM	6–1
9 RIGHT IN TIME	5–2
4 HARMONIOUSLY	5–1
5 VIRABHADRASANA	7–2

PICK: 8 DON'T TELL MOM
She looked loaded behind the winner for much of the race in the debut. Once she got clear it appeared she was going to go right by. But she idled late in a race that appeared as if she needed one. Put it all together in the win at CD in the last start. The runner-up was a Brad Cox first timer. Sixth from that race won a MSW at IND next. Female family of G2 2010 La Derby winner Mission Impazible. Really sharp drills.

VALUE: 4 HARMONIOUSLY
Went wire to wire in the maiden win, from the 10 post, that the top choice was third in. She was caught by that one and another closing wide but re-rallied to get the win in a very game effort. Sire was a 4-time G1 winner including the 2021 BC Dirt Mile. Second dam was a 5-time G1 winner for trainer Bob Baffert. Cherie DeVaux put 7 works into this filly since the debut win. The last few breezing are exceptional works.

6 WILL TAKE IT	12–1
1 BOOTH	4–1
11 SAUDI CROWN	5–2
8 TENNESSEE LAMB	12–1

PICK: 6 WILL TAKE IT
Dallas Stewart is mired in a 5-week winless drought, with most of them well beaten. However, he has won with 5 of his last 12 starters at 10–1 or less. This one returns from a May layoff but has some back class, including a win in Oaklawn's Fifth Season without Lasix, which is prohibited here. Also ran a solid 4th against a strong field in the Knicks Go two back with Hernandez aboard. Some backclass to take a glance.

VALUE: 8 TENNESSEE LAMB
It appears David Jacobson bought this one privately after a 5th place finish in a 200k stakes at Ellis Park. He bought him from Calumet farms. He hasn't been very consistent but he did win the G3 Ben Ali over this track a year and a half ago. Closed for third the last time he was sprinting which came at Gulfstream Park in March. Many of these have questions. This one does, too, but the price should be pretty big today.

12 KILWIN	8–1
2 WAYS AND MEANS	7–5
9 SWEET AZTECA	8–1
11 EXPLORA	4–1

PICK: 12 KILWIN
No match for Ways and Means in the G1 Ballerina, but she dropped well back early before rallying along the dead rail. The Ballerina has produced three winners of this race, all from off the pace. In fact, 12 of the last 14 winners rallied from well back or stalked from the second flight before striking late. Not a single wire-to-wire winner in that span. Plenty of speed in here. Race shape gives her an upset shot.

VALUE: 9 SWEET AZTECA
She is quite the runner. She has won 9 of her 11 starts so far in her career. Was entered in this race last year but was a vet scratch and didn't participate. She came back and won the same two stakes (about the same way) she too leading into this event last year. On the downside, no wire to wire winners in the history of this stakes and she'll get plenty of pressure up front. If she can relax early, she'll be tough late.

10 CY FAIR	8–1
7 COMANCHE BRAVE	3–1
14 MISS YECHANCE	15–1
3 BACIO	5–2

PICK: 10 CY FAIR
She's won 5 of 8 starts for over $1M. She beat males twice last year including a 5–1 win in the BC Juv Turf Sprint. Drew the rail in the Music City last time out and was completely stopped throughout the lane. That last race can be tossed from consideration. The Music City produced the winner of this race last year (Shesospicy). Perfect draw considering a fast pace to her inside. Should be catching wobbly foes late.

VALUE: 14 MISS YECHANCE
Another filly facing males here. That is not an issue for her as she's only faced her own sex twice in a 15-race career so far. She beat 14 foes in the G1 Prix de Abbaye last time out. That race 2 of the last 6 winners of this race. It also gave us the show finisher in 2023. She beat 123 horses in her last 9 starts (nearly 14 per race). This rider (Nicholls) rode her the last three times and all were wins. Needs to carve out a trip.

1 FURTHER ADO	2–1
7 BRACKET BUSTER	7–2
2 T KRAFT	15–1
5 COAL BATTLE	6–1

PICK: 1 FURTHER ADO
Hard to ignore his two KEE starts: a 20-length maiden romp and an 11-length G1 Blue Grass demolition. 3YOs have won 4 of the last 13 editions, including Spun to Run, who exited a close 5th in the G1 PA Derby. This one was 2nd to The Puma in that race, when forced to wait on the turn as the winner got first run. Angled very wide on the turn losing valuable ground. Loves KEE and has a legit excuse for his last defeat.

VALUE: 2 T KRAFT
Bill Mott took time developing this one, who needed 6 starts to break his maiden. Tried G1/G2 company at 3 before being shelved in July 2025. Returned in May on turf, then switched back to dirt and beat a solid group of older sprinters. Has run winning races in three straight graded stakes, capped by a career-best G3 victory last out. Peaking at the right time and could work out an ideal rail trip. Mott 23% in G1 races on dirt.

11 PRECISE	7–2
12 BLUE BOLT	5–2
8 JANCIS	20–1
14 STELLIFY	12–1

PICK: 11 PRECISE
Blue Bolt will take plenty of money off 6 straight wins (four G1s) but beyond a mile is the question. This filly also owns four G1 wins but lost to Blue Bolt 3x at 8F. Proved she wants more ground when 2nd in the G1 Opera last out, overcoming late traffic to finish well. Euros have won 8 of the last 10 editions. O'Brien won this race in 2022 (at KEE) with Ryan Moore. Added distance (1.5 furlongs) will be the equalizer against Blue Bolt.

VALUE: 8 JANCIS
The EP Taylor has produced 2 winners and 7 in-the-money finishers in this race. Came flying late in that stakes despite losing ground 7-wide while the winner saved ground inside. Finished second to Blue Bolt in an Ascot G2 three back. May be a notch below the best, but deep closers have won 8 of the last 11 editions. Distance is certainly not an issue for her as her career best, a Group 2 win, came at 1M 1/8 in the UK.

13 ENGLISHMAN	4–5
11 T O ELVIS	7–2
7 BUILT	10–1
2 DARK SAFFRON	20–1

PICK: 13 ENGLISHMAN
Undefeated and basically unchallenged in all four starts at under one mile. Lost to the Baffert-trained Crude Velocity three back at one mile but was game in defeat. Has the kind of tracking speed that will put him into this early. The wide post could be an issue. Posts 11 and wider have won 7 times in this and the filly version since 2002. He is not automatic in this race but anything close to what he's done should win.

VALUE: 7 BUILT
Has won 6 of 7 fast-track dirt sprints, with his lone defeat a subpar third in the Matthews at CD five back. Only KEE dirt start was a maiden win in 2024. Went straight to the lead in his last two, more a reflection of his superiority than a need for the front. Figures to stalk here against tougher company in a race full of need-the-lead types. Prat is off to another in here. Saez rode him to a third in the G2 Risen Star in 2025.

BC MILE $2M, 1M TURF

8 NOTABLE SPEECH	7–5
2 LAKE FOREST	6–1
14 PUERTO RICO	10–1
7 QIRAT	30–1

PICK: 8 NOTABLE SPEECH
No business winning the WO Mile last out. Deterministic, also in here, enjoyed an uncontested lead through comfortable fractions while this one was bottled up well behind. Once clear, he devoured ground and ran down a rival who had it all his own way. Followed the same winning path in 2025, taking the Woodbine Mile before capturing this race. Is in peak form and looks awfully tough to beat if he gets a clean trip in here.

VALUE: 2 LAKE FOREST
Europeans and closers have dominated this race. Only Lure was able to win wire to wire (did it in back to back years in the early 1990's). This one was second to Rhetorical last out in the Turf Mile here. But Rhetorical was absolutely left all alone on the front in ridiculously slow fractions. That won't happen here. Good rally for second in the City of York two back at 6–1. Has the right running style. Saves ground here.

2 NITROGEN	6–5
4 FULLY SUBSCRIBED	8–5
3 REGALED	20–1
7 SUPER CORREDORA	15–1

PICK: 2 NITROGEN
After being crowned the 3YO Champion Filly last year, she's stepped up her game even more as a 4YO. Her last 3 starts have been particularly amazing. She beat Fully Subscribed by nearly 13 lengths. That one came back to win a G2 and 2 G1's afterwards. She had no business running second in the G1 Whitney behind HOY Sovereignty. She stumbled from the gate, set a wicked pace and was game. 9 winners of this race came out of the Beldame. She would need to digress to lose.

2ND: 4 FULLY SUBSCRIBED
If not for Nitrogen, this Chad Brown filly would be odds–on in here. Although beaten over 12 lengths by that rival, she remains a major win contender and enters in career–best form. Last out, she easily handled Counting Stars, a top 3YO filly in the country, in the Spinster. The Spinster has been a key steppingstone to this event, producing 14 of 42 winners (33%), including three of the last four. Has a very appealing style for this race. She tracks close enough but has a finish.

3RD: 3 REGALED
She's got something on her resume no one else in here has. She finished in front of Nitrogen in a race. That was 5 back in the G2 Azeri on a sloppy track at Oaklawn Park. Crushed by her in the Phipps two starts later but Nitrogen won that by over 12 and this one was beaten 16 with a wide trip. She wasn't that far from the place spot. She might be doing the rain dance prior to this. She is 6 for 6 in the top two on wet surfaces. Comes from far out of it. Would like a pace battle.

4TH: 7 SUPER CORREDORA
The scratch of Splendora moves this one into the top 4. She surprised with a 9–1 win in the BC Juvenile Fillies last year in wire to wire fashion. Her first 2 starts as a three–year old were terrible, and both at under 2–1 at Santa Anita. She was laid off and came back in the G2 Zenyatta and won for fun wire to wire. Was a career best Beyer so whatever the issue was early in the season has been resolved. Runner she beat, Majestic Oops, won the Azeri earlier at OP beating Regaled.

2 BENVENUTO CELLINI	6–1
12 DIAMOND NECKLACE	3–1
14 DEEP MONSTER	30–1
7 HOTAZHELL	15–1

PICK: 2 BENVENUTO CELLINI
Aidan O'Brien won the BC Turf seven times, including three with runners exiting the Arc. Among them was St Nicholas Abbey, a longshot fifth in the 2011 Arc. Overall, 10 BC Turf winners exited the Arc, most not winning it. Ran into traffic late in the Prix Niel. O'Brien has emphasized his preference for firm turf. World–class rider Ryan Moore stays aboard. Expecting a rebound with a quicker, more honest early pace. Price should be decent especially for O'Brien/Moore combo.

2ND: 12 DIAMOND NECKLACE
European shippers have won this race 21 of the last 27 years. As mentioned, the glitzy Arc de Triomphe produced 10 that have won this race. In addition, runners from that race have 30 trifecta spot finishes in this race all–time (24%). That is a big number for one last out race. Already a 4–time Group 1 winner for Aidan O'Brien. He's won 6 of 8 starts and has a sparkling resume for this race. Sibling Magic Wand, also for the same connections, won $4.8M on the turf in her career.

3RD: 14 DEEP MONSTER
8YO Japanese invader could be overlooked, but shouldn't be. Three back, he defeated classy $2.5M earner Goliath, who returned to win a Group 2 in France. Two back at Sha Tin, he was moving with the eventual winner before being shut off with 200 yards left, costing him any chance. His latest was clearly a needed prep for this. Proven vs top international competition, and the outside draw is not of any real concern. Japanese runners have won all over the world in recent years.

4TH: 7 HOTAZHELL
Another Euro invader. He has a start here in the US. It was about 15 months ago when he came flying from dead last at Saratoga to lose by a length in the G1 Saratoga Derby. Form is much better right now than it was when he ran in the US last year. Shocking upset at 50–1 to win the Irish Champion Stakes in Ireland last time out. The runner–up (who won the $3M Nashville at KD in 2025) came back to win the Group 2 Dollar. Carrying 135 lbs recently. Drops major weight for this.

2 SOVEREIGNTY	5–2
5 FOREVER YOUNG	2–1
3 GOLDEN TEMPO	5–1
8 NAPOLEON SOLO	15–1

PICK: 2 SOVEREIGNTY
Reigning Horse of the Year. He had a famously superb 2025 three–year old campaign with wins in the Derby, Belmont and Travers to name a few. Was beaten twice at odds–on in the two starts off the layoff. Returned to the form of 2025 last time out in the Whitney when he held off the stubborn filly Nitrogen. Missed a start in the G1 JCGC due to an issue with his foot. Bill Mott said he has trained best in a long, long time prepping for this. There is plenty of speed to set him up.

2ND: 5 FOREVER YOUNG
There are no chinks in the armor here. He's won 12 of 16 in his career for a ridiculous $32M. His losses came by a head in the 2024 Ky Derby in a race he would've won had he not had trip trouble, twice in Dubai and in the 2024 BC Classic when he was third to Sierra Leone. Won this race last year over the top two finishers from 2024. Beat very little in the G1 last out especially after Baeza missed the break. Likely right there in the win mix again today. Deserving favoritism.

3RD: 3 GOLDEN TEMPO
Surprise Kentucky Derby winner just three starts ago with Jose Ortiz riding. He validated that win with a huge run two back in the Belmont to win at 6–1. The place and show from there ran one–two in the G2 Jim Dandy next. He ran better than it looks in the Travers. The top two carried the speed all the way and this one got trapped down on the inside in the late stages. The Puma came out of that race to win the Pa Derby. Last from there won the Ok Derby. Late run again.

4TH: 8 NAPOLEON SOLO
The scratch of Magnitude is a big one. He was a main speed challenger which, with his extraction from the race, makes the pace situation quite different. It still appears both this colt and Knightsbridge go out early. But if either of them is willing to relax and let the other go, it could be a different race than we thought. Two–time G1 winner (once at 2YO and once this year). He's carried his speed in all but two of his career starts. He's game and working lights–out into this event.

VALUE: 8 NAPOLEON SOLO
